Hello everyone! Welcome to users and permissions module of linux basics for cyber security. In this module, you will learn about commands related to user management, group management, password management, permissions and path in Linux OS.